Bleed

- Bleed is a printing term that describes a document, which has images or elements that touch the edge of the page (see example page below). If this is the case, you have to add 'bleed' to your file. To make a bleed on a document, enlarge your document with 3 mm on all sides and extend any color or images to the document edges by 3 mm. This will create a bleed.

NB! This 3 mm is cut off again after printing. Keep this in mind! Do not place text or other layout elements too close to the page edge (trimming line) that should not cut off. See the safe margin (green) line.
